Carmel,

Would you please direct this email to Martin Pike for his information.

The torrential rain and extreme weather patterns have yet again continued to plague the UK, and particularly so across the North-West. The consequences of this extreme weather has all too sadly been devastating to many communities further north - despite the flood mitigation measures and efforts of the Environment Agency. I have attached a photograph of the Three Pools Waterway adjacent to the proposed development sitethere is little margin for safety, and the potential risk from the consequence of flooding remain all too real.

Many thanks

Kind Regards
